AEDAS PROFILE

Aedas is one of the world's leading architecture design practices operating collectively with a simple purpose: To create inspiring designs that make positive contributions to the quality of the built-environment and to create places that enrich people's lives.

With an impressive record of credentials and awards, Aedas operates from its our principal design centres in London and Hong Kong, and a network of 32 offices spanning 4 continents. This offers our clients the benefits of a locally-based, personal service, backed by a global network of skills and resources.

We operate across a broad range of sectors including Civic and Cultural, Sports and Leisure, Commercial and Residential, Education, Healthcare, and Retail and Transportation sector.

With a core value of design excellence, the practice offers expertise in Architecture, Masterplanning, Urban Design and Landscape, Interior Design, Product Design, Building Consultancy and Imaging. Our principle offices also house the practice's Research and Development group, which offers specialist services in Computational Design, Sustainability and Advanced Modelling.
